DROUGHT MATERIALLY CUTS CROPS IN THIS STATE

State and Federal Crop Reports for Kentucky Shows Decided Decline in Forecasts for Corn and Tobacco, Leading Crops.

Kentucky's crop prospects September 1 indicated the production of a corn crop of only about 88,155,000 bushels compared to prospects August 1 for 102,480,000 bushels and 82-150,000 bushels produced in 1921; and a total Kentucky tobacco crop, of all types, of 454,212,000 pounds compared to prospects August 1 for 529,279,000 pounds, and 325,710,000 pounds produced last year, according to the September crop report issued at Louisville by the United States Department of Agriculture in co-operation with State Commissioner of Agriculture W. C. Hanna.

The drought sharply reduced the earliest estimates of tobacco estimates and corn production in Kentucky.

The United States total tobacco crop now is estimated at about 1,353,000,000 pounds, compared to 1,675,000,000 pounds produced last year, and 1,378,000,000 pounds average production 1916-1920, inclusive.

These forecasts are subject to revision either downward or upward later in the season, depending on favorable or unfavorable conditions.

MANY CURES SUGGESTED TO HICCOUGH VICTIM

Louisville Woman, Who Has Suffered From Hiccoughs for Several Days, If Offered Advice By Many.

The Louisville Courier-Journal says: Hundreds of persons yesterday suggested remedies to Mrs. Virginia Tatum, who has been suffering with hiccoughs for nine days, but none brought relief. The patient consequently, steadily is growing weaker. She is unable to sleep or to take sufficient nourishment.

Special services were held last night at the Church of God, Nineteenth and Jefferson streets, of which Mrs. Tatum is a member. A large number of the members offered prayer for her.

Telegrams, letters and special delivery letters from the city, Kentucky and Indiana arrived yesterday at the home, 4632 Ashbottom Road, and more than fifty persons called to tell of some similar case where a cure had been effected.

Among the remedies suggested yesterday—most of which were tried—were:

Eat popcorn; drink vinegar; hold the eight finger tips together for some time; eat fruit preserves; take Holy Communion; drink holy water and say prayer—long prayer, written in pencil, enclosed in letter—; drink wine and say prayer—another prayer attached.

HUNDREDS ARE SLAIN AS TURKS BURN SMYRNA

Americans Reported to Have Been Molested as Turks Loot the City.

Athens, Sept. 15. — Turkish hordes murdered and looted today as Smyrna was swept by fire. Kemalists horrors in the city, which was wrested from the Greeks by the Turks, were described by American refugees who arrived at Piraeus on the American destroyer Sampson.

Fire started in the foreign quarter by a Turkish sergeant, according to witnesses, now is beyond control. The entire Greco-Armenian section has been wiped out and the flames are spreading, creating panic among the 200,000 Christian refugees.

Wholesale massacres by Turks of Greeks and Armenians were reported. Several Americans have been molested and some may have been killed.

An American millionaire named Macklachan was rescued after he was beaten nearly to death by Turks. Half dead, he was taken aboard an American destroyer. Whether Macklachan is the professor who has been president of the International University for years could not be ascertained.

Hordes of Turks, bent on excesses, roam the street, sacking shops in the foreign quarter.

A ghastly scene, in which hundreds of Armenians were annihilated, was described by refugees.

WM. H. STATEN TAKES HIS LIFE AT PORTSMOUTH HOME

Former Well Known Brown County, Ohio, Man Takes His Own Life With Shot Gun at Portsmouth Tuesday.

Portsmouth, Ohio. — A load of shot from a single barrel shot gun that tore off the top part of his head was the means employed by William H. Staten, well known resident of New Boston, to take his own life some time during Tuesday night. His lifeless body was found in a two-room frame shack in the rear of the Staten home, 3817 Rhodes avenue, New Boston. Two empty shells were found along with the empty shot gun which lay across the dead man's lap. There was a hole in the roof to show the course of one shot but there is no hole in the room to show where the second shot lodged.

On account of Mr. Staten making statements that neighbors had been trying to poison him, Coroner J. D. Hendrickson removed the man's stomach and sent it to Columbus for analysis by state chemists. He will not render his verdict until he hears from the examination of the stomach, but said that it appeared to be a plain case of suicide surrounded with peculiar facts. The most peculiar facts is the finding of two empty shot gun shells and a single barrel shot gun. It is the belief of neighbors that Mr. Staten was so intent on taking his own life that when he missed the first time he fired again.

The first shot, they say, is the one that probably made the hole in the roof.

Mr. Staten had been despondent over family troubles for about a year. His condition has been worse of late. The lifeless form sitting in a chair was found by Chester Staten, eldest son of the dead man. Chester Staten moved to the Staten home about two weeks ago and had been caring for his father and the property. The father had been staying for some time in the two-room shack on the rear of the lot.

Chester had been going to the shack early each morning and looking in to see if his father was all right, for he was about 60 years of age. When he looked through a window he saw his father's dead body in the chair with the shot gun across his lap. He did not go into the room, but notified the coroner at once.

William H. Staten had been a resident of New Boston for about twenty years, moving to that village from Brown county. He had been employed

LAD WHO SLEW FATHER HELD TO THE GRAND JURY

Clermont County Juvenile Court Holds Young Lieberman to the Grand Jury.

Batavia, Ohio, Sept. 14.—Gus Lieberman, 17 years old, was arraigned today before Judge Clarence Young in Juvenile Court and bound over to the grand jury on $3,000 bond, in connection with the fatal shooting of his father, Frank Lieberman, 43 years old, a month ago. Five neighbors of the Lieberman family signed the required bail. No charge has been placed against Lieberman since he surrendered recently, it being within the power of the Juvenile Court to refer the case to the grand jury for action without preferring charges.

Nate Cober, attorney for the boy, would not allow his client to take the stand, and said that the defense had no statement to make until the grand jury convened on October 7. He expressed optimism regarding the outcome of the case.

BOY WILL BE RETURNED TO OHIO REFORM SCHOOL

Fifteen-Year-Old Lad Who Was Released From Ohio Reform School, Will Be Returned There.

Ray Yarnall, fifteen-year-old boy who was arrested with a number of others in the Sixth ward Friday morning when it developed that the lads had been drinking moonshine whisky and it later developed that Yarnall had recently been implicated in several thefts here, will be returned to the Ohio Industrial School for boys.

Yarnall with the others was taken before Juvenile Judge Purnell who communicated by telephone with the Juvenile authorities at Cincinnati. It developed that some time ago Yarnall shot another boy in Cincinnati. He was sent to the Industrial School and after serving six months, was paroled. The authorities at Cincinnati said they would send for Yarnall and return him to the Industrial school.

By orders of Judge Purnell he was detained in the hospital ward of the local jail where he will be held until the Ohio authorities come for him.

Jack King, Bethel, Ohio, painter, was killed on the new Grant Highway near that village Thursday night when his automobile struck a bridge and turned turtle.

BOYS FIND DISCARDED MOONSHINE IN RIVER AND GET ON DRUNK

Sixth Ward Youths Find Gallon and a Half of Moonshine Liqueur In Ohio River — Face Juvenile Court.

Willie Holt, sixteen-year-old lad of the Sixth ward, was taken in charge by policemen Thursday evening in a very drunken condition and placed in the local jail. He was brought on Friday and questioned by Acting Chief of Police Carpenter.

It developed that several other lads who live in the Sixth ward and are members of Holt's gang, discovered a gallon and a half of moonshine liquor in a cotton bag in the Ohio River near the foot of Cottage street Thursday afternoon. The liquor was in three half-gallon jars and these jars were divided among the three leaders of the gang. Two of the jars were hidden and the contents of the third was consumed by the boys. All the other members of the gang were enabled to get under cover but Holt was too drunk to get home and he was caught by the police.

The police gathered in the entire gang Friday morning and took them before Juvenile Judge Purnell who gave them a lecture and took some of the leaders under probation for further investigation.

In the examination of the youths, one of them let drop the information that several weeks ago he had stolen four quarts of moonshine liquor from the cellar of an East End home.

One of the boys in the party had served time in one of the Ohio Reform schools and Judge Purnell is communicating with the Cincinnati Juvenile authorities in regard to this lad's record.

Officials are of the opinion that the liquor which the boys found in the river near the foot of Cottage street was thrown from a houseboat when the occupants became frightened at the appearance of the sheriffs in that neighborhood a few nights ago.

The whole matter is to receive the careful investigation of the police and sheriff's offices.
